Changing Negative Thoughts Thought Awareness Worksheet

HealingthePlanetfromWithin.com

Being aware of your thoughts, thinking rationally about life situations, and thinking positively are three powerful tools for living a life you love and achieving your dreams and goals.

These tools will assist you in eliminating harmful thought patterns that undermine your self-confidence and selfesteem, lower your energy levels, reduce your natural motivation, and sabotage your success.

Negative thinking is harmful to yourself because it can cause stress or tension headaches, make you feel sick in the stomach, trigger an anxiety attack, or prevent you from speaking your truth, among other things.

Negative thoughts have been shown to criticise your actions, put yourself or others down, expect failure, doubt your abilities, fear success, stifle motivation, increase worries about the past or future, and so on.

Negative thoughts can prevent you from achieving your goals and living the life you want!

Thoughts, like a broken record, play repeatedly in our minds without our awareness. These thought patterns originate in our childhood or from previous experiences. They have an impact on how you think, feel, and act.

To successfully change negative thinking, you must first become aware of your thoughts. What you don't know can't be changed. So, tune in to your favourite 'thought' (radio) station and listen. Observe the negative thoughts and switch to a more positive station.

Step 1: Thought Awareness

As discussed above, it's important to become aware of the thought patterns running through your mind. Here are some ideas to assist you with becoming more intimately aware of your thoughts:

- ➤ Observe your thoughts at a specific time each day. Allow your thoughts to flow as they usually would observe them as if you were watching a movie. It is important at this stage NOT to stop them..... just watch them.
- Write down all your thoughts for 5 minutes. Keep writing any thoughts that come in your mind during these five minutes.
- Write down your thoughts when you are feeling stressed, feeling anxious or frustrated.
- Keep a thought journal and write in it randomly throughout the day.
- Take notice of the difference between how negative thoughts make you feel, and how positive thoughts feel in your body.

Examples of common negative thoughts are:

- I can't do that.
- What will they think of me?
- Why me?
- I wish I hadn't done that I did it all wrong.
- What if.....
- Why didn't I....
- I wish I could do that better.
- What's wrong with me?
- I should have...
- I'll never succeed.
- I'm not worthy.
- They're not good enough.
- I hate them.
- I'll never succeed.
- I'm not worthy of unconditional love.
- The world is such an ugly place.

Step 2: Thinking About Thoughts

Once you've identified some of your thoughts and thought patterns you can explore them more deeply into how they affect your life.

What are your thoughts telling you about your life?

How are your thoughts affecting your behaviour?

Step 4: Transforming Thoughts

Now it's time to focus and change your negative thought patterns to positive ones. This will generate positive and uplifting changes in your life.

Every time you notice a negative thought in your mind speak directly to it and say STOP. It may be a worried thought about the future or an irrational one that makes you feel anxious and stress. Whatever the negative thought is reason with it and tell it that you don't want to think that way any more.

I treat negative thinking as a young child who is saying something silly. I laugh, shake my head and say, "now that's not really true"..... and then replace the negative thought with something positive, "I believe in myself and CAN do this!"

Every successful person in the world uses positive thinking to achieve their goals. In some form or other they are repeating a very powerful thought in their mind which give them the success they desire.

Choose a goal you believe is worth working towards. Catch any thoughts that are not aligned towards that goal and change it to something more empowering and positive. Change your thoughts, positively change your life.

Some positive thoughts you might like to try:

- I can achieve my goals by following certain steps.
- I am willing to change and grow.
- I am completely myself, and people like me for who I am.
- I am in control of my life. My actions create my reality.
- I learn from my mistakes. They give me insights into valuable lessons.
- I love myself, just the way I am.
- I am worthy and will try my best to accomplish my goals.
- I am successful at everything I do!
- I am worthy of respect and unconditional love.
- I deserve the best in life.
